

JAI INDUSTRIES

Jai International Pan'wood machinemall™ Now in Delhi

EXPANDING THE VISION AND THE MARKETS

With the introduction of Jai's "Pride of India" range in Indiawood-2010, it was proved beyond any doubt that Jai Industries is capable of envisioning the need of Indian woodwork segment, has the capacity to build world-class machinery at home and will conquer the markets. After almost a year, Pride of India range is now well settled as a worthy option to European machineries in the same range, but at a lower cost!

Jai is constantly innovating on machineries and exploring ways to reach-out to customers, provide value added services and make the whole experience of dealing with Jai fully satisfactory for them. So, this time to cater to North Indian markets Jai Industries is doing two important things.

One is taking part in DelhiWood 2011 exhibition in a big way and second is expanding and making it's Delhi Demo centre to a full-fledge "International PanWood machine-mall" status. DelhiWood will be a great opportunity for the wood-work and panel process industry of Delhi particularly and North in general. You can check the machinery you need on display and get the demo of important machines. Jai experts will be there to guide you on your industry-specific requirements and provide machine options based on features and budgets. Jai Industries is bringing more than 50 important machines in DelhiWood, setting up an enclave of around 300 square meters; a very large display of its ranges WudPro (basic woodwork), Modula (India's one of the best in Panel Process) and Turanlar and Scm Group (European PPM).

Most important m/cs that one should see at this Jai Enclave are from 'Pride of India' range. Euro quality Panel Saw & Edge Bander are declared the best machines in India today. The overall product finishing, International standards of designs and precision performance of both these m/cs were awe inspiring. User friendliness and maneuverability of operations are at par with any European machine. It was seen during the exhibition itself that veterans of panel processing industry themselves have booked machines for their industry, leaving no doubt in the minds of other users. There are some other m/cs in this range, plus overall Modula range (Pride of India is part of this Modula) has around 100 m/cs and models which can satisfy all the requirements of any panel processing unit. Modula has become one of the leading brand in India and is being exported to many countries.

The newly expanded, renovated and fully equipped "Jai International PanWood machine-mall" in Delhi is now open and catering to whole of North India. You can see many entry level m/cs and some high-end machinery on display. By arrangement demos can be held and our sales partners "Sharma Machines" can provide all the service & support you need. A trained capable team of engineers will attend to Delhi and surrounding areas. This 3000 square feet machine-mall is situated in the main market of machinery, at Rohtak road, Nangloi, an area considered central to industry. Jai is more closer to you now spiritually and physically